Gunn High School Theatre Department Presents

The COMEDY of ERRORS

Shakespeare never lost sleep over accusations of being derivative. There are so many great old stories to play around with, why spend time inventing new ones? So experts in Roman comedy may notice more than passing resemblance to Plautus' The Menaechmi, but in Shakespeare's hands The Comedy of Errors emerges far more complex and interesting. And if there's nothing new under the sun, as they say, more likely than not someone else will come along and, say, base a film on the story of two sets of identical twins separated at birth starring Bette Midler and Lily Tomlin, titled Big Business... or turn it into a musical titled, say, The Boys from Syracuse... In any case we welcome you to Ephesus (if you're not from Syracuse) and hope your stay in these islands proves a pleasant respite from less hospitable climes.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Jim Daly". The signature is stylized with large, sweeping loops and a long, trailing flourish that extends downwards and to the left.

Be sure not to miss Gunn Theatre's Student Directed One-Acts, performing May 12, 13, 14, 19, 20, 21. Also be sure to see the Gunn Brown Bag Theatre productions of Sam Shepard's play "Fool For Love" and Allen Ginsberg's interpretive piece "Howl" performing together April 29 and 30. Both events are in the spectacularly comfortable Studio Theatre.
